

backgrounders

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Cc: [REDACTED]
Bcc:
Subject: backgrounders
Date: 5/ [REDACTED] 2002 11:10:43 AM

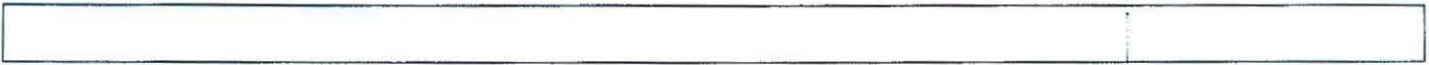

hope this serves the purpose. let me know.

JAMES E. MITCHELL, PH.D.

Survival, Evasion, Resistance and Escape (SERE) Psychologist

Summary: 11 years experience with the psychological aspects of resistance to

backgrounders

interrogation (recent vita available at ots/oas)

Role on Interrogation Team: Identify resistance to interrogation techniques employed help devise, countermeasures; devise and apply psychological pressures.

Relevant Background:

--- PH.D. in Clinical Psychology (1986)

--- Certified SERE Psychologist

--- 7 years at USAF Survival School as SERE Psychologist

--- 11 years experience with resistance to interrogation for special operations personnel, research on the psychological aspects of resisting interrogation, debriefing POWs and civilian hostages, development of resistance to interrogation training techniques, interviewing with special operatives personnel having adverse psychological reactions to training, and supervising the application of psychological and physical pressures during resistance to interrogation training

--- interrogation training, and experience conducting interrogations

--- study of al-qa'ida resistance to interrogation training