UNCLASSIMEN 218 SECRET//XI FYI guys. b(7)-(e)7+3 ----Original Message-From: Mallow Brittain Sent: Monday, December 02, 2002 1:52 PM (H) (E-mail); To: LTC: CID001 COS(s); CID001 COMMAND GROUP(s); CID001 CC (E-mail) ' (E-(E-mail); SJA(s) mail) Subject: CITF Participation in discussions of interrogation strategies, techniques, etc All, b(5) - 1MG Let me make sure all understand Ryder, and thru him to MG Miller. and all others down in GTMO Pls pass this back to What follows is my policy. 6(7)·C 1) CITF elements WILL participate, at the SAC, OPS, or Legal Advisor level in any and all DISCUSSIONS of interrogation strategies and approaches. We have to know what is being discussed, and have to be able to express our views. As per MG Miller, I expect we will be invited to listen in, and/or give our views. 2) At any point that we disagree with an approach, for its methods, etc, we should professionaly raise our material/legal, or other objections, but that does not mean we have to leave the room. The obligations of our representative at any discussion/meeting are twofold: raise a professional objection, and report the issue to CITF leadership. Our folks should make it clear that our participation in dialogues related to the aggressive strategies does not amount to an . endorsement of the technique or the interrogation plan. But we MUST remain engaged with other agencies, and aware of the strategies and plans relating to all detainees because it will affect our investigations and our own subsequent interviews.

3) CITF agents and all other personnel will not participate in the use of any questionable techniques (as defined by law, regulation, and as interpreted by the SAC there, and any agent has the authority to withdraw from any environment or action which he/she feels is inappropriate. Agents must report any such action to the SAC immediately).

You may share this policy with whomever you need to.

COL M
