(b)(5)-1
(b)(2)-3

2. How is Institutional Training adapting, based on current lessons learned, to meet current challenges with respect to Internment operations?

US Army Military Police School (USAMPS) conducted a comprehensive review of its institutional training for internment operations. In addition to the I/R training at basic/advanced individual training and basic/career officer courses, USAMPS developed an exportable I/R training package in FY 04 and provided the following training support:

(b)(2)-3

3. Identify AR 350-1 annual training requirements that support current challenges with respect to Internment operations?

The only specific training prescribed in AR 350-1 that directly pertains to Internment operations is outlined in para. 4-14, Law of War Training. In summary, it specifies:

- Law of war training is a refresher-training requirement in support of the following initial/specified requirements.
- Law of war training for leaders/soldiers throughout their careers commensurate with their duties.
- IET training for enlisted and basic for officers/warrants to include:

- Soldiers fight only combatants and do not harm enemy prisoners.
- Soldiers do not kill or torture enemy prisoners.
- Soldiers care for wounded foe.
- Soldiers treat civilians humanely.
- Soldiers do not steal private property and possessions.
- Soldiers do their best to prevent violations of the law of war.
- Soldiers report all violations of law of war to their superior.
- Unit commanders will plan and execute the following in their units:
 - Training should reinforce the principles set forth in the rules listed above.
 - Training will be designed around current missions and contingency plans and will be integrated into unit training activities, exercises, and evaluations.
- Army schools will tailor law of war training to the task taught in those schools, with emphasis on:
 - Performance of duties in accordance with the law of war obligations of the US.
 - Law of war issues in command planning and execution of combat operations.
 - Measures for the reporting of suspected or alleged war crimes committed by or against the US or Allied personnel.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

(U) ECC Tasking Summary #15, DTG 180700MAY04.

(U) Task #4a Ensure we are pro-active with ASD (SO/LIC) in sending of OIF reports to them even though they have not asked for them to date.

(U) Answer 4a. Mr. Alan Liotta, Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for SO/LIC was contacted by the NDRC Branch Chief to determine when ASD SO/LIC would like regular OIF reports to begin, how often and in what format. He stated that he was meeting 5/18/04 to determine what information they would need, the format and how often. He will contact the NDRC on 5/19/04 to provide guidance.
