[redacted] stated that back home, he used to listen to the United States freedom channel, Radio Free Asia, on the radio. [redacted] and advised that Radio Free Asia gives so much hope to the [redacted] insight into the United States' democracy and freedom.
[redacted] stated that Radio Free Asia would give them news that [redacted] would not release. [redacted]

[redacted] and he does not consider himself a smart man.
[redacted] stated that he is smart enough to know that America is the best democratic society and the American people are happy, live well, have civil rights, and are respected. [redacted] asked if the interviewers had listened to our own songs. [redacted] stated that American songs are always happy and [redacted] music and books are all sad, depressing, and about the struggles of the poor. [redacted] stated that America and [redacted] societies are night and day, in the way people live and the way they are treated. [redacted] advised that while at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, America has been very nice and has treated him really well. [redacted] stated that he knows that the United States is the only country that will stand up to the tyrannical governments that practice genocide and protect the poor and weak people around the world. [redacted] advised that his life is simple and he does not mind being sent back and dying in his own country for a worthwhile cause of freeing his people. [redacted] stated that he does not want to be sent back [redacted] to die for no reason. [redacted] advised that he would rather go to the United States or some other western democratic country, where he can claim political asylum. [redacted] stated that if he goes back to [redacted] they will kill him for being a part of [redacted] [redacted] stated that if the Americans will wash his hands, he will wash the United States' face. [redacted] advised that if the Americans will grant him and the other [redacted] detainees political asylum, he would be indebted to the United States until he dies. [redacted] stated that [redacted] would never attack the United States or Americans, because why would you attack a friend. [redacted] advised that [redacted] feels friendly towards the United States and wants its help. [redacted] stated that [redacted] has only one enemy and that is [redacted] was shouting at him and threatening him. [redacted] afraid that [redacted] were going to hurt him, but he did not say anything to them. [redacted] advised that at the first interview with [redacted] he was brought in at approximately 2 p.m. and was kept to 8 p.m., that night. [redacted] stated that he missed dinner and he was not able to eat. [redacted] advised that on the second interview, [redacted] kept him in the interview room for approximately seven hours and turned the air conditioner down cold to make him freeze. [redacted] advised that he did not speak to [redacted] on the second interview. [redacted] advised that [redacted] told him that just because he was not answering their questions in Guantanamo Bay, did he think he could stay quiet when [redacted] Government gets him home to [redacted] [redacted] stated that [redacted] told him when he gets home to [redacted] that he will talk under torture. On the third interview [redacted] stated that he was sarcastic when he answered some of the [redacted]'s questions. [redacted] advised that [redacted] asked him if the United States had a [redacted] translator. [redacted] stated that he told [redacted] "no" and that the United States have an American man who speaks [redacted] [redacted] stated that [redacted] asked some of the other [redacted] detainees, if they knew the number of U.S. soldiers that were at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. [redacted] advised that [redacted] told him that since he did not believe in the cooperation between [redacted] and the United States declaring [redacted] a terrorist organization, [redacted] brought in an American that read a statement declaring the above.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] told him that [redacted] Government had been in contact with all of the [redacted] detainees' families. [redacted] stated that [redacted] policy toward the [redacted] people is killing them. [redacted] advised that the [redacted] land is rich with oil and very fertile, that is why the [redacted] want it. [redacted] stated that the easiest way for [redacted] to keep [redacted] is to kill all of the [redacted] people. [redacted] advised that by the United States releasing all of his personal information to [redacted] that has put his family in danger. [redacted] stated that since [redacted] visit, all of the [redacted] detainees are becoming mentally depressed and unstable, due to the mental stress of worrying about what [redacted] Government has done to their families. [redacted] advised that he is worried about his family and is sure that [redacted] Government has seized his family's home, put his parents into the streets, placed his brothers in prison, or killed his family. [redacted] stated that [redacted] did not verbally threaten his family, but they told him what city and neighborhood his family lives in. [redacted] advised that the [redacted] told him that money can buy any story that [redacted] Government would want. [redacted] stated that [redacted] told him that they can pay two people to say that they saw [redacted] commit terrorist acts. [redacted] stated that [redacted] accused him of being a terrorist, knowing USAMA BIN LADEN, and being a part of Al-Qaeda.

[redacted] stated that he had never heard of Al-Qaeda, until he heard of it from the Americans. [redacted] has no
