The results of the interview are as follows:

The interviewers apologized to [redacted] for having to interview him again prior to the end of Ramadan. [redacted] was asked again about the possibility of a planned mass suicide occurring amongst the detainees at the Camp. He said that it was not applicable for him, in his state of being, to commit suicide. He would not say if it might be applicable for others in the Camp to commit suicide. He has heard talk from previous interviewers and from other detainees pertaining to rumors of suicide. Suicide might be possible since detainees are provided sheets and blankets. The Muslim religion and fatwas generally prohibit the taking of one's own life except during exceptional circumstances, i.e.: the torturing of an individual during interrogation. [redacted] is not aware of specific plans for coordinated suicide of the detainees.

During a prior interview (FD-302 dated 10/26/2002), [redacted] made the comment: "I got out of the circle and now I am in chains." He was asked about the meaning of this comment. He said he did not remember the reason he said it and asked to be told what the comment was in relation to. When told that it concerned [redacted]

[redacted] became defensive and stared at the ground. He told the interviewers to "check the tapes", referring to his belief that all interviews are video taped. [redacted] also pointed out that he believes [redacted] has been hired by the United States and is being paid to provide information to authorities. [redacted] was told that information regarding his involvement in a terrorist training camp came from multiple sources, not just [redacted]. [redacted] said that if [redacted] provided the information, he was also being paid. [redacted] was reminded of an earlier statement he made indicating his hate for [redacted] and was told that [redacted] was only disappointed with [redacted]. At this point, [redacted] looked up and asked if [redacted] was in custody.

[redacted] was asked if he had ever made any mistakes. His response was to ask whether interviewers meant general or specific mistakes. [redacted] was then confronted with the fact that the government believes that he was in a terrorist training camp in Afghanistan [redacted]

[redacted] was told that he is beginning to believe his own lies about where he was during this time period. He was asked to realize and admit his mistakes and move ahead with his life as he had done with [redacted] and as the interviewer had done with [redacted]. [redacted] said that the supposed inconsistencies in his statements are our problem and not his. He said that [redacted] will confirm his whereabouts for this time period. [redacted] repeated many times "It's not my problem".

In an FD-302 dated 10/26/2002, [redacted]

The interviewers asked [redacted] what he would
