~~(S/REL TO USA, AUS, CAN AND GBR)~~ Exploitation of U.S. Soldier Gravesite: A shallow grave was discovered near the "Dra Didgle" (arm of Tigris) canal north of the village of Karmah in Fallujah. The body is believed to be a U.S. soldier who was allegedly buried in the bottom of a large (1.5m x 2.5m) hole. According to the U.S. Military, the hole shows obvious signs of having been dug by a back-hoe. Allegedly, portions of the corpse's right arm and lower left leg were exposed and were clothed in an American military uniform. Additionally, the foot of the left leg had an American desert-style military boot. On 22 December 2004, three FBI-ERT Agents departed en route to the site to recover the victim's body and conduct forensic analysis. Results will be forwarded to FBIHQ as soon as they are made available.
